SAYS FARMERS NEED KNOW HOW, ORGANIZATIONS

"The type of help needed by farmers is the kind that will help them to help themselves," Dr. Kenneth Hood told 60 present at a meeting of the Adams County Farmers' Association at Biglerville Monday night.

Education, research and strong farm organizations are the three needs for a more prosperous and successful agriculture, Dr. Hood, of the national staff of the American Farm Bureau, said.

Declaring that most of the assistance given farmers has not "given the return that it should," Hood said the solution to many of the farmers' problems is increased education, by providing more information for farmers to use in farm management; increased research to provide more adaptable strains and cut down diseases; and "strong farm organizations to let the legislatures of the states and nation know what the farmers need and want."

Opposes Power Projects

Once the farmer has the information he needs and the results of research, "he can be relied upon to make the right decisions himself without being forced by anyone," Hood declared that government expenditures must be curtailed. "Already one-third of everyone's income goes into taxes, national, state and local. Every family of four already owes $7,000 as its share of the national debt."

The former State College economist said that "there must be a decentralization of power. The federal government must give more responsibilities back to the states; the states must delegate more power to the counties, and the counties must give more duties back to the people."

Coming out against Federal power projects, he said such activities and plans should be carried out by the people involved. He added that the federal government "owns too much land." Eighty-eight per cent of the state of Nevada is federally owned, he said.

In Harrisburg Today

Clarence Wilson, state secretary of the Pennsylvania Farmers Association, gave further details on the Puerto Rican laborers' camp being set up in Pennsylvania under auspices of the state organization. A meeting will be held at Gap March 8 for those interested in securing Puerto Rican farm labor, he said.

A discussion on "How To Keep the Youngster Down on the Farm" led to agreement that the child must be interested in farming from an early age, if he is to remain in farming. 4-H Club projects starting at age 10. Future Farmers of America projects in high school and father-son partnerships on the farm from age 16 or 18 on will keep youngsters from leaving agriculture, the group agreed.

President Paul Lerew outlined the program for today at the Penn-Harris hotel in Harrisburg when officers of the Adams County Farmers Association and its legislative committee are meeting with legislators to discuss legislative matters.

Jail John Sell, 54 On Three Charges

John Sell, 54, Iron Springs was committed to the Adams County Jail this morning by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder in default of $1,500 on three charges, growing out of an alleged altercation with Carl Thompson, same address, in the mountains near Iron Springs, according to police.

State police made the arrest this morning on a warrant charging Sell with assault and battery, attempting to injure Thompson with a knife and pointing a shotgun at Thompson.

A hearing is scheduled before Justice Snyder Friday morning.

Interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

ROTARY HEARS ABOUT WOMEN'S CIVIC COUNCIL

The work of the Women's Civic Council was outlined by its president, Mrs. Forrest Craver, Monday evening to the Gettysburg Rotary Club at its meeting in the YWCA. Claiming "we are very fortunate in being women in America today because our sisters in other countries will not have the same privileges we enjoy for another generation," Mrs. Craver said the civic council was an effort "on the part of Gettysburg women to meet their civic responsibility."

The organization, which has representation from 25 women's groups numbering 2,000 memberships, has spent most of its time "in getting facts, promoting activities for the good of the community, and in seeking to get an expression of women's opinion for the guidance of our community."

"It is not that we feel women are better than men, or that the men are not doing a good job. We simply feel that we can serve as a channel for the expression of the woman's viewpoint on various matters."

Gen. Van Fleet Says U. N. General Offensive Would Be Certain Success In Korea

By JOHN RANDOLPH

SEOUL (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet said today a United Nations general offensive in Korea now would be a certain success.

On the eve of his farewell to the Eighth Army, the 60-year-old retiring commander again expressed belief in carrying the war to the Reds, said the U. N. lost opportunities for whipping the Communists, and called for a million-man Republic of Korea Army with 20 combat divisions.

Van Fleet made the statements in answering nine questions asked by The Associated Press as he prepared to turn over his command tomorrow to Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor and leave Korea for the first time since he arrived 22 months ago.

Hearings At Restraint

Authoritative sources say that for more than a year Van Fleet has not been able to launch a single battalion attack without consent from the Far East Command in Tokyo—and that Van Fleet himself was heart-sick when U. N. and U. S. decisions twice held him

Mrs. Deese To File Pleas Of Guilty

Mrs. Florence E. Deese, 21, Lakeland, Fla., who recently visited with her parents in Gettysburg, signified her intention to plead guilty to two charges of passing fraudulent checks at a hearing Monday night before Justice of the Peace George A. Lipsey, Hanover. She posted $500 bail on each charge for her appearance in court.

She was accused by Hanover police of passing two worthless checks in Hanover stores Saturday. Both were drawn for $69 on a Hanover bank. The merchandise and cash were returned to the store owners.

LAWYERS ARGUE IN CASE OVER CONFISCATION

Attorneys for both sides were given ten days in which to file briefs following a hearing before the Adams County Court Monday afternoon in the Commonwealth's attempt to confiscate the car in which Thomas Brown, Gettysburg, and George Walker Breckenridge, Hanover R. D., transported "moonshine" last November.

Attorney Horace A. Segelbaum, deputy attorney general for Pennsylvania, read to the court the law covering the "confiscation of cars, boats, airplanes and other conveyances used in the transportation of illegal liquor."

Attorney Charles W. Wolf, representing Mrs. Lucille Brown, 215 W. High St., owner of the car, argued briefly: "If this law is mandatory then you could have your car stolen from you and used to haul liquor and the state would take it away from you and you'd have no recourse." Wolf argued that the law would be unconstitutional. Segelbaum said it had been upheld many times by the Superior Court.

Light "Bumps" Watchman Off N. Stratton St.

Clement Aughinbaugh, Gettysburg R. D., Monday evening at 5:45 o'clock "finished the job my father started more than a half century ago."

Aughinbaugh, watchman at the N. Stratton St. crossing for the last 11 years, was replaced by the automatic blinker light which went into operation at the crossing at 1 p.m. Monday. He finished out the day however, as a check against the light, and then began a vacation before starting out once again as railroad worker in another locality.

The 56-year-old watchman carefully closed and locked the door of the small frame "watch-box" that had been his home from 7:30 a.m. to 5:45 p.m. each day for more than a decade. In due course a Western Maryland wrecker train, while passing through here will pick up the watch-box, place it on a car and haul it away to join other no longer used watchmen's structures.

Aughinbaugh, a veteran of 20 years service with the railroad has a choice of "bumping" some other watchman in another locality or rejoining the road gangs here or at Orrtanna. He was a maintenance worker originally and 18 years ago began his duties as a watchman, at the Carlisle St. crossing. Eleven years ago he moved to the Stratton St. crossing.

The watchman said his father, John R. Aughinbaugh, was the first watchman at the Stratton St. crossing. At the time his father began his work, he received 10 cents an hour for a nine hour day.

E. M. LIGHTNER DIES; QUARRIED STONE FOR PARK

Edward M. Lightner, 83, Gettysburg R. 1, Baltimore Road, died at the Warner Hospital Monday afternoon at 3:05 o'clock. He became ill December 26 and was admitted to the hospital January 2.

The deceased was born and always resided in Adams County, a son of the late Nathaniel and Catherine (Musser) Lightner. He was the last of his family. From 1890 to 1905 he worked as a stone-cutter in his own quarry and quarried most of the stone used for the New York and New Jersey monuments on the battlefield. He manufactured and delivered ice in Gettysburg and vicinity from 1905 to 1912. From 1912 to 1921 he farmed the William Bushman farm after which he moved to his late residence. He was employed by the State Highway Department for some time and also was employed for about four years by the Knouse Corporation.

Meredith Jr., pastor of the Methodist Church. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening after 7 o'clock.

LIONS DONATE TO LIBRARY DANCE

The Gettysburg Lions Club Monday evening voted to become a sponsor for the library-benefit Valentine Dance to be held Saturday at the high school building by the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. The Lions voted $10 to the dance committee.

The action was on recommendation of Finance Committee Chairman Gordon Webster, who said the sorority is seeking $1,000 for the library's building fund at the annual benefit affair.

Ira "Andy" Kerr announced to the Lions plans for a businessmen's volleyball league which will play each Thursday evening from 5 to 6 o'clock in the high school gymnasium. Charles Smith told of the progress with plans for operation of the Little League in Gettysburg this summer and Robert Deardorff said Lions and their ladies will go to Hershey for the Ice Capades either March 6 or 7 by bus.

President John S. Rice presided at the meeting at the Shetter House with 98 members in attendance. He announced a meeting of the board of directors and a chorus rehearsal after the club meeting.

Two films were shown. The first was on Little League baseball and the other was a J. C. Penney Company film, "Story of a Main Street Merchant."

It was announced that Leonard Schick, a Du Pont Company representative, will be the speaker next Monday evening when the club meets at St. James Lutheran Church.

NO ARRESTS IN LOCAL ROBBERY

State and borough police investigating the burglary of the Dave Oylers Motors, Steinwehr Ave., early Sunday morning and the theft of between $800 and $1,000 from a safe, today said a number of leads were being run down, but that no arrests had been made.

Burglars broke in a rear door at the garage, rolled the heavy safe through the building and loaded it onto a car or truck in the rear, took it to the "Wheatfield" on the battlefield, where they battered it open.

Several persons have been questioned, police said. Cpl. L. D. Jenkins, Harrisburg state police officer formerly stationed in Gettysburg, was here Monday. He has had wide experience in similar safe jobs, authorities said, and came here to see if any connection could be traced between the Oylers job and other similar cases under investigation in Harrisburg headquarters.

TROUBLE AT TERMINAL

At 9 o'clock this morning borough police were called to quiet an intoxicated man who had created a disturbance on a Greyhound bus. The police report showed that the man became quiet after an officer talked to him at the terminal here. No charges were filed.

50 Merchants In Sale Days

Approximately 50 local merchants will participate in the Gettysburg February Sale Days, Friday and Saturday, the local Retail Merchants Association reported today.

The Sale Days will feature the awarding of approximately $1,000 in prizes to customers of the stores in addition to a collection of the most outstanding bargains in many years.

Retail Merchants Association officials said reports presented to them by the merchants indicate they are making every effort to make the forthcoming sales among the largest ever held in the borough.

Advertisements listing many of the values to be offered will be printed in Wednesday's edition of The Gettysburg Times.

34 JOIN COUNTY CREDIT BUREAU SAYS MANAGER

The new Credit Bureau of Adams County has, at the present time, 34 paid-up members, Ernest Dulaney, Credit Bureau manager, reported at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce Monday night. He said he expects to have between 50 and 60 members by the end of this week.

Most of the present membership is from Gettysburg, but Mr. Dulaney reported that he expects to start next week meeting with retailers in Biglerville, Littlestown, Fairfield and other communities in the county. The fact that it is a county, rather than just a Gettysburg credit bureau, was stressed Monday night by Mr. Dulaney.

The present members of the credit bureau were announced as follows:

Warren Chevrolet, Citizens Oil Co., Wentz Furniture Store, Stanley's Service Station, Sixes Furniture Store, Thrift Loan Plan, Wolff Supply Co., Gay's Jewelry, Blue Ridge Oil Co., Zerling's Hardware, McCauslin Auto Sales, Western Auto Supply, Rudisill's Gulf Station, Hetrick's Service Center, Julius H. Swope, Gettysburg Building Supply, Appeler's Service Station, Carroll M. Zentz. Joe the Motorists Friend, Evans Food Store, Glenn L. Bream Inc., E. Donald Scott, Walter D. Shoemaker (Littlestown), Central Chemical Corp., McClellan's Grocery, Schwartz Farm Supply, Adams County Motors, Dengler Brothers Grocery, Lincolnway Diner and service station, Unger Motor Co., Dave Oylers Motors, Minter's Store, Weishaar Brothers and Britcher and Bender.

Dr. Ralph D. Heim At Church Session

Dr. Ralph D. Heim, professor at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, left Gettysburg Sunday to attend the annual meeting of the Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches in the U. S. A., being held in Cincinnati this week.

Doctor Heim is a member of the Assembly of the Division and of the Administrative and Executive Committees of the Commission on General Christian Education.

As vice president of the professors and research associated section, he will be in charge of six work groups studying various phases of teaching in colleges and seminaries. One hundred professors from the United States and Canada will be in attendance.

School Board To Negotiate For Government Land And Push Colt Park Building

EXTEND LOCAL 3-DAY RULE ON SCHOOL HEALTH THRU JOINTURE

Parents of the approximately 2,000 pupils in the Gettysburg joint school system will receive letters from the joint board in the near future informing them that children absent from school for three days or more must have a doctor's certificate in order to return and that children absent for one or two days must have a written excuse from their parents when they return to school.

Decision to send the letter to the parents was made by the joint board at its meeting Monday evening in the library at the Gettysburg High School after a lengthy discussion on the problem.

Gettysburg has been following that system for a number of years, Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver, superintendent of schools, said. "But," he added, "it's much simpler here, with doctors handy."

Aim To Protect Pupils

Original decision to demand a doctor's certificate stating that the youngster is free from communicable diseases if he is to return after an absence of three days or more was made when an epidemic of scarlet fever occurred in Gettysburg, Keefeauver said.

The doctors certificates have been insisted upon since to prevent epidemics in the schools. Keefeauver added, "We have chicken pox in the schools now and today we learned of a case of mumps. Those are not so frightening, but scarlet fever can cause serious injury and even death and that's why we put the three-day rule into effect—for the protection of the children in the schools."

Decide On Letter

He said only cooperation of parents in the outlying schools could make the law operative there. "Once a youngster arrives at school by bus there is nothing that can be done about it." As a penalty, to make sure the doctors certificate rule is followed, teachers could be instructed to mark the three days absence as illegal absences, the superintendent said.

500 Excursionists Coming Here May 3

The first passenger train over the Reading Railroad tracks in several years, and the first through Reading train from Philadelphia in many more years, is scheduled to arrive on Sunday afternoon, May 3, bringing approximately 500 excursionists to Gettysburg for a brief visit.

The special train will bring members of the Philadelphia Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society and friends here, arriving at 12:40 p.m. and departing at 3:20 p.m., according to the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce.

James S. Myers, trip chairman, and others were in Gettysburg recently making arrangements for the visit here. They conferred with chamber officials and were supplied with Gettysburg literature.

Revive Plan To Build New Summer White House Here

Worley Wants Summer White House In County

A resolution extending President Dwight D. Eisenhower "a warm invitation to make his home in Adams County . . . the nation's Summer White House" was introduced in the House of Representatives Monday night by Rep. Francis Worley of Adams County.

Adams County residents are hopeful, Worley said, that the President will visit his farm near Gettysburg frequently, and convert the property into a Summer White House.

In addition to the Worley resolution, which was referred to committee, a legislative move may be taken to seek federal action on a 1929 Pennsylvania forest land offer of 1,000 acres in Southern Pennsylvania as the potential site for a Summer White House.

Ike is said to have a warm feeling for the Gettysburg area because it was at old Camp Colt during World War I where he held his first major command as an Army officer.

GOOD EVENING
So you want another one for the road? And what do you want for a chaser, a cop?

Gettysburg's joint school board will continue with plans for construction of an elementary school at the Colt Park site recently secured by the school board by condemnation while negotiating for government land to the east of the present high school property.

In that way, the board decided Monday evening, planned construction may not be delayed, yet the school may go to either site, depending on how quickly the government land becomes available and what final decision is made on the location of the new elementary school.

The decision to continue in two directions at once came after nearly an hour's discussion on the possibilities of the government land extending from the high school to E. Confederate Ave.

Divergence Of Opinion
Jacob Appier, who secured the backing of Senators Martin and Duff for the proposal that the government sell the E. Confederate Ave. land to the school board, said he had been assured that the bills now before congress authorizing the sale of the government land will go through. He added that he had been told the bills should pass within a month or two.

Discussion showed some widely divergent viewpoints on the part of board members. Present plans call for construction of a 20-room elementary school at the Colt Park site, but the discussion disclosed that the 20-room school will not fill the need if Lincoln School is to be closed as well as High St., and one- and two-room schools in the jointure.

Arthur Buehler, pointing out that a 30-room school building will be needed if all present elementary children are to be housed in it, and that in "four or five more years" an additional building would be needed, held that such a school would be too large and claimed two elementary buildings should be constructed.

Advantages Cited

Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver, superintendent of schools, pointing out that the joint district will be building more than $1,000,000 worth of school within the next year to 18 months, held that construction of one large elementary school would effect a number of savings—in paving and landscaping, in cafeteria costs, auditorium costs, maintenance and janitor service.

Many of the board members however protested against the idea of putting nearly 1,000 elementary children in one spot because of the great number of buses that will have to gather and the problem of recreation. "Can you imagine 900 or 1,000 primary children all playing together at one time?" one member asked.

Some Prefer Two Buildings

Several implied they would prefer an 18 to 20-room school at the Colt Park site and another 18-room building on the government land when it becomes available.

A motion authorizing the planning committee to enter into negotiations with the government toward the purchase of the 20-acre E. Confederate Ave. plot was passed. Thursday members of the boards will meet with an architect to determine whether a delay of a month or six weeks in a final decision on the Colt Park site would delay construction of an elementary school there and to determine how suitable the government land will be for school construction. Saturday members of the planning committee are to meet with Senator Martin to discuss the progress of the bill which would authorize sale of the land if it passes.

Arrangements were completed today for members of the Gettysburg joint school board to meet with their architects, the Buchart Engineering Corp., to study the government land site at 3 p.m. Thursday, Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver said.

Amount Of Delay Uncertain

By action taken last year, the joint board is on record favoring two new grade school buildings here. The boards were assured by Attorney Donald M. Swope that they could legally dispose of the Colt Park property if the government land become available and it was decided not to build at Colt Park.

How much delay will be caused if the board decides to switch locations was a question no one could answer at the meeting. All of the steps of securing approval from the State Department of Public Instruction and other state agencies which have already been completed in connection with the Colt Park site would have to be gone through again, Board President Ralph D. Wickerham said.

Diplomats Favored To Top Bullets Here Wednesday; Frosh Teams Play At 7 p.m.

Caught in the throes of a losing streak that has mounted to three straight and resulted in six losses in the last seven games, the Gettysburg College cagers take on the veteran Franklin and Marshall dribblers here Wednesday evening, again in the role of the underdog.

The Diplomats have won seven of their last eight games for a season record of 9-4. One of their defeats was an 81-77 affair to Muhlenberg at Allentown on December 3. On the basis of that game the Lancaster lads rank a big favorite to crush the Bullets.

Howe'r, when these rivals get together the unexpected often results and that is what Bullet fans are hoping for.

Gettysburg hit its lowest point Saturday night when it suffered a humiliating defeat at the hands of Muhlenberg 98-53. The brilliant shooting which characterized the Bullets when they racked up seven straight wins to open the season has become spotty and at times definitely poor. It was sub-par against the Mules.

It is entirely possible that Coach "Hen" Bream may revamp his lineup to oppose the Diplomats. A number of his "regulars" have fallen down miserably recently which may result in the Bullet mentor turning to his bench in an effort to pull his team out of its losing ways.

Lovert Outstanding
Foremost in the lineup of the invading F. and M. team is Carson Lovett, 6-6 center from York High. Lovett has been scoring at will against all opponents and is one of the best rebound artists in the country.

Wall Lentz, 6-4, and Norman Pitt, 6-2, are the only seniors on the Diplomats squad. Both well known here for their previous fine performances.

F. and M., in addition to losing to Muhlenberg, lost decisions to Navy, Lehigh and CONY. The victor string includes Swarthmore, Haverford, Ursinus, Virginia, Hofstra, Drexel, Dickinson (2) and Albright.

Johnny Yovosin's unbeaten freshmen, winners of three in a row, will clash with the F. and M. yearlings in the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

Rickey Flies West To Sign Slugger

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, flies to California today to negotiate a new contract with home run slugger Ralph Kiner.

Kiner received $90,000 last year in salary and bonuses. The Bucs want to pay him $100,000 this year. The 30-year-old outfielder says he will take a cut but not a full 25 per cent.

Chicago, Cincinnati and Boston of the National League want Kiner. Rickey says he has made his demands and it's up to those clubs to accept or turn down the price for Kiner. Rickey flew to Havana after his talks with Kiner at Palm Springs.

Mount Reserves Defeated At York

Jack Kramer Nears Tie With Sedgman

BOSTON (AP) — Jack Kramer was within one match of squaring his cross-country professional tennis series with Australian ace Frank Sedgman today after handing the Aussie a one-sided 6-1, 6-2 trouncing.

Sedgman has a 13-12 margin in their tour as they meet again tonight in Boston Garden.

Ken McGregor of Australia rallied to whip Pancho Segura of Ecuador 4-5, 7-5, 8-5. Segura has a 20-6 advantage in their duel.

Sedgman and McGregor won the doubles, defeating Kramer and Segura, 7-5, 6-3.

BASSETT BEATS FRENCH BOXER

PARIS (AP) — Featherweights who want a shot at the world title can start lining up. Percy Bassett is going to be a fighting champion.

"We'll fight anyone anywhere as long as the money is right."

That was the cry from Bassett's dressing room last night after the 23-year-old Philadelphia Negro had won the interim world featherweight championship by chilling Ray Farnham with one of the greatest exhibitions of power punching ever seen in Paris.

A devastating left and right, both directly to the head, sent the Frenchman crumbling to the canvas at the end of the third round.

The bell saved Farnham from a third round knockout but the Frenchman was still completely out when the fourth round bell sounded. His manager signalled defeat and under French rules the victory goes into the books in the fourth round.

Bassett will hold the interim crown for a maximum of only 13 months since he is a fill-in for Sandy Saddler, now a private in the Army. But the Philadelphia fighter is eager to make it a full-fledged title as soon as possible.

SCRANTON BALL CLUB FOR SALE; $7,500 IS PRICE

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Scranton baseball interests today had an extra four days—until Feb. 20—to decide what will be done with their Class A Eastern League franchise.

League President Thomas H. Richardson met with a Scranton group yesterday and told them he had extended from Feb. 16 to Feb. 20 the deadline for Scranton to decide if it will field a team this summer.

Lou Baselice, a New York City manufacturer who owns the franchise, disclosed 10 days ago that he will not run the team again. He offered to sell the franchise to any interested group or individual for $7,500.

Following the meeting Richardson expressed "high hopes" that the franchise will remain in Scranton. He added that he believes the people of the city will rally to secure the necessary funds to hold the franchise.

7 Teams Ready

The other seven teams of the circuit—Wilkes-Barre, Reading and Williamsport, Pa., and Elmira, Albany, Schenectady and Binghamton, N. Y.—are ready to play in 1953.

Meanwhile, the business manager of the former Lancaster team in the recently disbanded Class B Interstate League, expressed interest in obtaining the Scranton franchise if it is available.

"Scranton has the franchise but no team," said Frank Spair. "I have the team but no franchise. Maybe we can work something out."

He indicated he would look into the matter at once. Lancaster has a working agreement with the Cleveland Indians, parent club of the Reading entry in the Eastern loop.

Richardson called a public meeting for Feb. 20 in Scranton to decide the issue.

Club Discontinues Benefit Grid Game

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Harrisburg Rotary Club voted yesterday to discontinue its benefit college football bowl game.

The contest known as the Rotary Bowl has been staged annually for the last six years at Hershey Stadium. Money collected went to charitable organizations.

Clyde Smith, club secretary, mentioned "lack of interest in putting the game across" and difficulty in finding "suitable contestants" as contributing factors to the decision to discontinue sponsorship.

Among teams that played in Rotary Bowl games were Penn State, Washington State, Temple, West Virginia, Bucknell, Gettysburg and Franklin and Marshall.

GHS Needs Victory Over Waynesboro Here This Evening

A big local crowd is expected to turn out tonight to watch the Gettysburg High Warriors go after their third straight South Penn League victory at the expense of the invading Waynesboro quintet.

Local fans are particularly anxious to see Tom Cross, the 6-7 center of the Golden Tornado who ranks fifth in league scoring with a total of 132 points.

Each succeeding game grows increasingly important to the Forney-men in their bid for the second half title. Although the Warriors slipped Waynesboro on the latter's floor in the first half, they are taking nothing for granted tonight. With Hershey an almost certain winner at Mechanicsburg this evening, the locals must win to remain in a tie with the Trojans for first place. Hershey and Gettysburg clash here Friday night in one of the biggest games of the second half.

At 6:45 this evening Ross Sachs' javayee team, with an 8-6 record, meets the Tornado reserves.

LV DUTCHMEN BEAT MULES FOR 13TH VICTORY

ANNVILLE, Pa. (AP) — George Rinso Marquette of Lebanon Valley College, with a basketball team patterned after his own 5 foot 7 frame, has built it into the only undefeated college five in Pennsylvania.

No regular on the squad, representing a school of 450 enrollment, is over 6 feet 2 but what they lack in the height column is made up in the victory column.

The Flying Dutchmen walloped Muhlenberg, 86-77, last night for their 13th straight win and another decision over a "big time" college.

"Yes, I guess it was an upset: we were picked to lose even to our record," said Marquette, now three-fifths through his first year as a college coach—without having tasted defeat. The Dutchmen have seven games to play, five on foreign floors.

"A Coach's Dream"
The reason for the all-winning skein? "A lot of intangibles. I guess I have to say," says Marquette.

"This group is a coach's dream. They give away lots of height but they have tremendous spirit. It comes from inside them. Further than that it's hard to define."

Marquette, who came to LVC after three years as coach of nearby Myerstown High, does admit he has a bunch of "pretty solid ballplayers" though.

"I've got an honest six, not a five. That sixth guy (Lou Sorrentino of Sharon Hill, Pa.) is in there as much as the others," he said. "They all rebound like much bigger men. They have tremendous natural ability."

ens and had no knowledge he was going elsewhere and would transport moonshine.

The husband, Thomas Brown, said he and Breckenridge decided to go to Thurmont to see about some rabbits, failed to find the man they wanted, saw a friend in Emmitsburg, stopped, were told where they could get some moonshine, secured it and then were stopped in Gettysburg by liquor control officers. He said when the officers stopped him, he "became nervous and dropped" the tow jars containing the liquor.

Attorney Donald M. Swope, representing Glenn L. Bream Inc., which holds a lien against the car, placed Wilbur L. Sites, office manager for the company, on the stand to testify that Mrs. Brown still owed $195.05 on the car out of an original $400.

The hearing followed a scheduled hearing on the action in trespass brought by J. Burton and Helen E. Witherow and Jane Louise Witherow, Gettysburg R. I., against Myles E. Starnes, Aspers. At the time appointed for the hearing the court announced it plans to enter an order in the case, but no details were immediately available concerning the order.

SETON HALL IS VOTED TOP SPOT FOR 4TH WEEK

NEW YORK (AP) — Undefeated Seton Hall, riding the crest of a 22-game winning streak, was voted top basketball team in the land today for the fourth straight week.

The Pirates from South Orange, N. J., stretching their reign as No. 1 team to the longest by any team this season, were picked as tops by 32 of the 75 sportswriters and broadcasters in the poll. On the usual basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second and so forth, Seton Hall totaled 598 points.

Also for the fourth week in succession, Indiana stormed in behind Seton Hall with Washington again taking third. Indiana, which whipped Wisconsin, 66-48, last night for the Hoosiers' 10th straight in the Big Ten, was voted first on nine ballots and had 504 points. Washington had 10 firsts and 485 points.

Kansas State Drops
La Salle held fourth place this week, one jump ahead of Illinois, which trounced Michigan last night, 92-62.

Kansas State, upset by Nebraska Saturday night, dropped from fifth to 10th place this week. The K-Staters started bouncing back last night, however, with a 74-64 victory over Iowa State.

Oklahoma A&M climbed three notches to sixth, while De Paul held firm in seventh. Louisiana State moved up two places to eighth, moving Western Kentucky down to ninth. Western made its record 20-3 last night, however, by shelling Loyola of New Orleans, 92-67.

erintendent said, but the directors did not act on this suggestion.

Directors were of the opinion that parents would follow the rule, once it was explained to them, even though "it does work a hardship on some people."

Keefeauver asked the board to either authorize the rule for the entire joint district or have Gettysburg abandon the rule altogether.

After lengthy discussion, the joint board agreed to keep the rule and send a letter to notify parents and ask their cooperation.

Invite Van Zandt
Congressman James A. Van Zandt, twice national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and a member of the congressional Atomic Energy Commission, will be the speaker May 31 at the annual commencement exercises at Gettysburg High School, the board decided.

Plans for the auditorium addition to the high school will be shown to the directors when they and their ladies meet Thursday night at the high school for the annual dinner with the teachers as guests, Ralph Guise, chairman of the planning committee, announced.

Adopt Rental Rules
Formal rules regulating use of the gymnasium and auditorium when rented to organizations or individuals were adopted by the board. The rules, which prohibit smoking, drinking, and immoral shows and make the renting party responsible for all damage to property or injury to persons, have been in effect for some time. Keefeauver said, but the resolution adopted Monday night "put them in writing."

The resolution makes it mandatory to pay rentals for rehearsals, or meetings in advance. Keefeauver said a charge of $35 per night and $15 for rehearsals had been made for most local organizations. Outside organizations and private organizations or groups are generally asked a higher price, he added.

An invitation to school board members to attend a meeting of the Gettysburg Jointure PTA February 26 at the High School was read.

Ralph Guise reported on the progress of the Gettysburg Band Boosters Association toward securing new uniforms for the high school band.

Today's Talk

LIKE HEADLIGHTS AT NIGHT

Every one of us, no matter what our origin, our color, creed or nationality, needs a guiding faith. The faith that we own is something like the strong headlights on our automobile that throw their beams far ahead in the dark night. These headlights give us confidence.

It's that way with the faith that we own. It keeps lighting up the way. It assures us when there is darkness all about us. So long as we pay attention to the lights we know that all will be safe and our journey will be happily complete.

It is our spiritual values to which we must adhere, first of all. Without them, no matter how vaunted, material values would consume us in chaos and failure. There would be no liberty of the human spirit. Freedom would be outlawed, and the dignity of man would be at an end. Religion is the first requisite for leadership in a confused and materialistic world.

Before the completed task must come the vision. Lincoln saw it when he referred to a "house divided" and in his statement that a country could not happily endure "half free and half slave." And so, through faith, prayer and allegiance to God, and although dying a martyr, the Union was saved.

The way ahead, however, is not always clear, though our headlights of faith throw their beams ahead. Often there is fog. Then it is that a greater faith is needed, caution and added courage being called upon. Flattering in an emergency never pays. It means dropping God, the Pilot.

It is the wonder of God that He gives to individuals and to nations their headlights of faith to guide them through their nights of darkness. Miraculously "God builds the nest for the blind bird; and may it not be that He opens closed eyes and unstops deaf ears to sights and sounds from which others by these very senses are debarred?" Thus did Michael Fairless inquire in her immortal little book, "The Road-mender."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Ignorant of Weakness."

Just Folks

ICE FISHING

I like to cast for trout in May
And fish for bass when that's allowed.

I'll gladly spend a summer day,
And more with my old fishing crowd.

But me they never will entice
To join them fishing through the ice.

With K. T. Keller I have caught
Red snapper off the southern keys.
Tarpon with him I've hooked and fought,
Never to bring one from the seas.

But if ice fishing goes K. T.
I will not bear him company.

I have no real desire to go
And fish with lines as stiff as wire.

I'd rather hear the north wind blow
When I'm at home beside the fire.
Instead of fishing through the ice
For perch I'll pay the market price.

BOOK EXPLAINS WHY AMERICANS JOIN, QUIT REDS

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Even though ex-Communists have provided congressional committees with sensational testimony on the conspiracy of communism, there is a wide gap in public knowledge and understanding of what makes a Communist: why Americans join and quit the party.

The committees themselves have spent little time on that question. FBI files are rich with this kind of information but are secret. A few ex-Communists who have won prominence with their public testimony have written books about their lives. But theirs were unusual cases.

Yet, in the past 30 years an estimated 700,000 men and women have joined and left the party whose known membership now, according to FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, is less than 40,000. Morris Ernst and David Loth have tried to fill some of the gap in public knowledge on Communists.

Interviewed 300

They interviewed about 300 ex-members of the party and, from this information, drew some general conclusions which, together with case histories, they have put in a book: "Report on the American Communist." It's a book well worth anyone's time. Ernst, a New York lawyer, has been a pillar of the American Civil Liberties Union. Loth has a newspaper background.

There is no one reason why people join or quit the party. There are many reasons, some complex, that go back into childhood and home life. Here are some highlights from the book:

Age—The peak age for joining seems to be 18 to 23. A majority of the rank and file have joined and left by 23.

Usually Well Schooled
Schooling—The average Communist has had more schooling than the general population. A high proportion has been to college. Home life—Generally, brought up in comfort and luxury. Many are the children of professional men, business men, bankers and ministers.

"Another factor in the family background that struck us was the extremely high incidence of suicides, desertions and divorces among parents, brothers, and sisters" or other close relatives.

Parents — "Equally impressive was the great number of men who had grown up with a marked hostility to an aggressive father who usually was a conservative in politics and the number of women who thought themselves less than beautiful and complained about an overwhelming mother."

Usually An Idealist
Jobs—Most occupy jobs which do not call for any work with their hands.

Motives for joining — Financial gain almost never a factor. Power is only a slightly stronger motive. Usually a Communist thinks of himself as an idealist joining the party because of hatred of war, poverty, discrimination or other injustices, although millions share these hates without becoming Communists. In many recruits there is an obvious sense of never having "belonged."

"These are the men and women who as boys and girls were unpopular or ignored either because of looks or a social stigma or shyness or over-egerness or some other reason."

Reasons for quitting—These vary too: The shock of disillusionment because of a turn in the party line, like the Hitler-Stalin Pact, or a youth who joined through emotional instability matures, or a loved one leaves the party.

Some Of It Shocking
Some of the book is shocking. For instance, the story of the spying on one another required of the members and the blackmail the party uses against people who quit.

But Ernst and Loth filled only part of the gap in public knowledge. For some unexplained reason they did not explain what happens at party meetings where members get their indoctrination in philosophy and discipline. This is not a profound book. Ernst and Loth didn't intend it to be. But it's an interesting and very informative one.

Prison-made Bomb Injures Seven Men

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Seven members of the Washington State Prison staff were injured yesterday in the explosion of a prisoner-manufactured bomb.

The blast was believed by prison authorities to have nipped a plot by a group of hardened convicts to blow their way to freedom. The bomb which blew up consisted of a small medicine bottle filled with black powder and a mushy, yellow substance, with a wire contrivance through the neck for a detonator. Part of the contents was nitroglycerine "soup," presumably from boiled down sticks of dynamite.

Among the Tuaregs, a tribe of the Sahara Desert, upper class men go veiled day and night but the women are not veiled.

They will be gone for more than a week and Mr. Gilbert will deliver his lecture at different points in West Virginia and Maryland. Miss Aouda Duttera will visit friends in Baltimore.

Captain White Describes Montreal; Given Another Opportunity For Freedom

By Captain Samuel White

(An autobiography of an Adams county man in the campaign of 1814 against the British and Indians in Canada.)

An attempt at escape is foiled, when Captain White's intent is exposed to British officer by one of the beef smugglers and White and his companions reach Montreal.)

Tenth Installment

Montreal is the capital of an island of the same name, formerly called Villa Marie; it is the second place in Canada for strength, buildings and extent, and besides the advantages of a better climate, for delightfulness of situation is much preferable to Quebec. It stands on the side of a hill sloping to the south, with many agreeable villas upon it, which, with the island of St. Helen, and the river, which is about two miles broad, forms a most charming landscape.

The city is not very broad from north to south but covers a great deal of ground from east to west, and is nearly as populous as Quebec. The streets are regular, forming an oblong square, the houses well built, and the public edifices far exceed those of Quebec in beauty and comeliness; the residence of the knights hospitaliers, is extremely magnificent; there are several gardens within the walls; particularly those of the Governor, the Sisters of the Congregation, the Nunnery Hospital, the Recollets, Jesuits Seminary, &c., there are also, many other gardens and plantations without the gates.

The churches and religious houses are of the greatest neatness and simplicity. The city has seven gates, but its fortifications are inconsiderable, being encompassed by a slight wall of masonry, sufficient only to prevent a surprise from the numerous tribes of Indians, with whom they are surrounded, and who used to resort in large bodies, to the annual fair, held here from June to the end of August. On his side of the town, is a cavalier on an artificial eminence, with a parapet, and six or eight guns, called the Citadel.

Population 6,000
The number of inhabitants, I was informed, amounted to about six thousand. The neighboring shores supply them with a vast variety of game in the different seasons, and the island abounds with soft springs, which form many pleasant rivulets. They drive a considerable trade in furs; and the place is well calculated for commerce as vessels of two hundred tons burthen can come directly up to the city. It stands one hundred and twenty miles south of Quebec and one hundred and ten north of Albany.

This island formerly belonged to the French, but was taken by General Amherst and Murray, on the eighth of September, one thousand seven hundred and sixty. By the capitulation, all the French forces were sent to old France, and thus it became subject to the crown of Great Britain; it was afterwards confirmed to them by the peace of one thousand seven hundred and sixty-three.

After I had been in Montreal a few days, I was given to understand that a number of American officers had been paroled home from this place, and made application to the provost major, for a parole to go home; he would apply to the governor, he said, and if I would call at his office in a day or two, he would inform me of the result. After repeated calls on my part, he enquired upon what terms I expected to be paroled. I told him I would agree not to lift arms, until legally exchanged. He then asked me if I would agree not to lift arms during the war? I replied that it was not fair to ask me to agree to such terms; and that at all events, I could not, nor would not, accept of a parole, badly as I liked being a prisoner, upon any such terms. He then informed me that I would not be paroled on any other terms; and so finished the discussion.

Chance For Escape
A short time afterwards, a chance of escape was offered me by a friend, who promised to procure me a pass, provided I would change my name, and enter with him as a boatman. When I reached the narrow, I could take a canoe and paddle across to the American shore, as he was going up the river with liquor to the British army. This I declined, not liking the idea of changing my name; and it was absolutely necessary for any one who attempted to travel in that country then, to have a pass, as to be found without one, subjected the person to instant arrest, and of course I could not apply for one in my own name, consequently could not avail myself of the opportunity.

While killing time one day in a tavern at Montreal, a deserter from the American army came in, who had a great deal to say about the Americans. To the question of why he deserted, he replied that he was entirely in consequence of the bad treatment he received from his officers. We had some warm words, and I cautioned him to be careful, now that winter was coming on, in case he could not get work to support himself, which it was more than probable would prove the case not to turn his hand to stealing, as a comrade of his had been hanged but a few days before, for an offence of the kind; and it was, I thought, a most excellent plan adopted by the British, to get rid of such rubbish, as no man can place confidence in. It may well be supposed that he did not wait to hear any more.

Could Buy Freedom
About this time a man who resided a few miles from town came and told me that if I would give him one hundred dollars, he would deliver me safe in the United States, in the course of one night. Soon after a gentleman, a resident of Montreal told me, that if I would disguise myself by putting on a good suit of clothes, he would give me a seat in his calash, procure a pass for me, and carry me in part of a day to where I might conveniently cross in a canoe. Both these offers required money, and I postponed answering for a day or two, hoping that I might be able to raise the money by some exertion. Accordingly I inquired of my landlord, he being an American, whether he could inform me of any means of procuring fifty or one hundred dollars on loan; he recommended me to a mercantile house, which he told me, was immensely rich, and American.

The name of the firm was "Ballas and Gaits" they had made a splendid fortune by smuggling business, carried on between them and some of the merchants of New York and Boston, who exchanged flour, &c., for dry goods; if I would apply to them, he thought there would be no doubt of my success. In pursuance, therefore of this advice, I immediately waited upon Mr. Gaits, and after stating my situation to him, told him I had been recommended to apply to his house for the loan of from fifty to one hundred dollars, and that I would pay the amount with any percentage he might demand, to any house in New York or Boston, in ten days after I should have arrived in the United States.

He then inquired if I had made my case known to the British officers, and upon my replying that they were well acquainted with my wants, the sum would easily be raised. I told him that although reduced by misfortune to the disagreeable necessity of applying to a stranger, and I expected a gentleman, for a loan of money, I was not yet reduced to beggary, and left him.

Beat Up Prisoners
About this time Cornet Gillis was brought on, and left at the same house with me, he was a spirited, and had been a very stout young man, but was now much disabled, by rheumatic pains, which I believe he never got entirely rid of. Having been irritated while at Port George, by being put into the guard-house, among several refractory soldiers, he had commenced beating them with a leg of a bench, which he had broken off, and before the guard alarmed by the cries of "murder" had time to come to their assistance, he had knocked down three or four. For this, he was taken and stretched on a log, sunk level with the ground, where he was tightly fastened down with ropes, and kept in that position for several days. It was here he had taken the rheumatic pains, under which he was suffering.

PROBERS MOVE TO ROCKVIEW IN QUIZ OF RIOTS

BELLEFONTE, Pa. (AP)—A special five-man investigating committee turned to the Rockview Branch of Western State Penitentiary today for the second phase of its statewide prison probe.

Named by Gov. John S. Fine, the committee is scheduled to tour the huge prison farm near this Centre County community. Some 800 inmates participated in a 72-hour riot here last month.

Six guards held as hostages were released and the riot ended after the governor issued an "unconditional surrender" ultimatum.

State police reinforcements continue to patrol the prison grounds. The investigating group headed by Jacob L. Devers, a retired Army general, recently concluded a probe of Western State Penitentiary at Pittsburgh where a similar riot of a full day's duration preceded the outbreak at Bellefonte. The group has not made public its findings on the Pittsburgh institution.

Others On Committee
Members of the governor's committee include John C. Burke, warden of Wisconsin state prison at Waupun; Judge Burton R. Laub, Erie; Joseph E. Ragen, warden of Joliet Penitentiary, Illinois, and William P. Witherow, retired Pittsburgh industrialist.

The committee also is expected to check charges by Dr. Ralph E. Carrier, State College, former prison physician, that perversion is common at Rockview. The physician recently said he hoped the probers would make "a real inquiry" into the prison.

Fine and Atty. Gen. Robert E. Woodside have declined comment on the charges pending the investigating committee's report.

At Harrisburg, Senate Democrats last night asked for a full scale legislative investigation of both the Pittsburgh and Rockview riots.

Need Immediate Action
"Charges growing out of the rioting are so serious that they require and demand some immediate action," said Sen. John H. Dent (Westmoreland), Democratic floor leader.

Dent and Sen. Elmer J. Holland (D-Allegheny) sought immediate consideration of their proposal for a 10-man legislative committee to look into the prison question.

Their resolution was sent to the State Government Committee after Sen. Rowland B. Mahany (Crawford), Republican floor leader, rejected Dent's request for immediate action.

Mahany said the Legislature should await the report of the Fine-appointed prison investigation committee.

"There is common talk a white-wash is being planned by the governor's committee," answered Dent. "I don't say this is true, but another committee should be named to act independently of the governor's committee."

PROCTOR, Mont. (AP)—A "dog" sitting high up in a tree didn't seem surprising to a little boy—he hardly mentioned it to his fellow second-graders. But they wanted to see the tree-climbing "dog." And so did the boy's neighbor, Mrs. Maude Adams. She took one look at the "dog" and then blasted the animal with her rifle. A 200-pound bear crashed down from the tree.

York Youths Dies In Eight-foot Pit

YORK, Pa. (AP)—A one block walk home from a school basketball game and dance ended in death for 14-year-old Clair E. Ness.

His body was recovered Saturday from a eight-foot deep sewer excavation pit virtually in front of the Ness home.

Philip R. Ness, deputy York county coroner, issued a verdict of "accidental death by drowning." Rain water was pumped from the six foot square ditch before the boy's body was found after an all night search.

The deputy coroner reported that there was no protecting barrier on one side of the ditch until after the youth's body was recovered.

Police said they thought the boy had tried to jump across the ditch, not realizing its depth.

The dead boy and the deputy coroner were not related.

Missing Car Dealer Gave Bad Checks

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Frank Cox, Alexandria, Va., used car dealer who disappeared from a Philadelphia hotel room two weeks ago, gave some $15,000 worth of bad checks to an auto rental agency here, says Det. George Barrett.

Barrett disclosed on Sunday that Cox gave the checks to Robinson Auto Rental Inc., for a consignment of cars.

The cars were then sold by Cox, Barrett said, although the Robinson company retained the titles. Police have sent out an all-state alarm for the missing man.

Cox, Barrett continued, had also passed bad checks amounting to "about $4,000, in Darlington, S. C."

Will Continue Hunt For Commies In U. S.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The House un-American Activities Committee is going to continue its hunt for Communists even though innocent people may be hurt, says Chairman Velde (R-Ill.), because "it's a lot better to wrongly accuse one person of being a Communist than to allow so many to get away."

Velde made the statement on Sunday prior to his appearance on the ABC television program "Junior Press Conference." On the program he told student interviewers he thought his House committee should "supplement but not supersede" any hunt for Reds in the U. S. government by President Eisenhower's executive staff.

MARTIN URGES TOLL FEES FOR ROADS, BRIDGES

BOSTON (AP)—U. S. Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) recommended Monday that future through roads and bridges be financed by charging tolls.

He recommended also that the federal government stop imposing a gasoline tax as soon as feasible and that the highway program be placed more directly under the control of the states.

Martin is chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee.

Speaking at the first general session of the annual meeting of the American Road Builders Association, he said:

Under State Control
"I believe we would have more effective administration and operation of our highway program if it was more directly under the control of the states."

"The federal government should withdraw from the field of gasoline taxation as soon as may be consistent with the needs of national defense. That is the position taken in resolutions adopted by the Conference of Governors and the Council of State Governments."

"I believe a great measure of relief could be obtained by stopping the diversion of all road user taxes and by financing the building of through roads and bridges by means of tolls."

During the last year, Temple Church was completely remodeled and refurbished at a cost of $60,000. A number of the members Sunday were honored for their aid in this work. The Rev. Dr. Hugh E. Yost, pastor, and the Rev. Chris Hanson, a son of the Temple Church, were both members of the first graduating class at Gettysburg College in 1924 at which the guest speaker presented diplomas during his first year as president of the college.

Argentine Confers With Red Dictator

MOSCOW (AP)—Argentine Ambassador Dr. Leopoldo Bravo quotes Prime Minister Stalin as saying war would be avoided if countries did not meddle in the internal affairs of other countries.

The new envoy to Moscow was granted one of the Soviet chief's rare personal interviews with a foreigner Saturday night.

Bravo said on Sunday that war was discussed only "in a general way" in the 45-minute visit and the Korean conflict was not mentioned.

Bravo said he gave Stalin the cordial greetings of Argentine President Juan Peron and "in his name I expressed a wish for strengthening relations existing between the Soviet Union and the Argentine Republic in the economic field."

The interview was interpreted here as indicating Soviet interest in broadening trade between the two countries. Business in the past between them has been largely on a barter basis.

Bravo stressed how vigorous he thought 73-year-old Stalin looked.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI Monday added to its list of "10 most wanted men" the name of Joseph James Brletic described as a dangerous criminal at the age of 24. Brletic, who also uses the name "Frank Garfalo," has been a fugitive since Nov. 29, 1948, when he and a companion broke out of the St. Louis jail at Clayton, Mo., while awaiting trial on robbery charges.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-O.) said at the White House Monday that the administration apparently is not considering a "frontal attack" against the Communists in Korea.

Taft, the Senate GOP floor leader, made this statement to reporters who questioned him when he came from a legislative conference with President Eisenhower.

He said there were ways to bring pressure on the Red Chinese other than by direct assault on their troops in Korea.

Taft has advocated a naval blockade of Red China.

He told reporters that he had favored generally the plan of Gen. Douglas MacArthur for bringing

Missing Girl, 4, Is Found In Creek

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—The body of four-year-old Linda Lou Peters of nearby Lampeter was found in Pequea Creek on Sunday ending an intense search.

The body was discovered near the spot where the child had last been seen by a neighbor last Friday. Dr. J. W. Prowell, deputy coroner, said the girl died of accidental drowning.

Several hundred neighbors, Boy Scouts, volunteer firemen from four communities and the Lancaster Civil Air Patrol joined state police in the hunt.

Mamie And Ike Like Nicknames

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you're talking or writing to the new tenant of the White House, custom decrees that you address him as "Mr. President."

But if you're talking or writing about him—or, for that matter, if you yell a greeting out the window when his motorcade passes by—it's okay to call him "Ike."

That's the word from people in close touch with the new President. And they add that people who called Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower "Mamie" before Jan. 20 continue to call her "Mamie" today.

HITS PROPOSED ONE-CENT TAX

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Keystone Bottlers Association thinks that a one-cent tax on soft drinks and newspapers would result in "complete turmoil."

"No industry can exist, let alone prosper, under the weight of such taxation," Z. H. Confair, Williamsport, president of the bottlers association, wrote over the week end.

A tax on newspapers would amount to a 20 per cent sales tax. Based on the soft drink industry's experience, circulation would fall 20 to 25 per cent. This would cause complete turmoil in your entire business operations."

Confair's observations referred to a tax bill package proposed in the state house two weeks ago by Rep. Adam T. Bower (R—Northumberland). The bill would tax newspapers one cent and would revive a one cent soft drink tax.

"No industry can exist, let alone prosper, under the weight of such taxation," said Confair in a letter to Theodore A. Serrill, general manager of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association.

Plan Ham, Turkey Supper Saturday

Plans for a ham and turkey dinner to be held at the Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, Saturday, from 4 until 8 o'clock were completed by the Parent-Teachers Association at a meeting Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in McSherrystown. Mrs. Richard Lawrence, McSherrystown, general chairman of the supper committee, reported on the work accomplished by the committee and the amount of food which had been received to date. The dinner fee will be one dollar for adults and fifty cents for children. Joseph Kegel, PTA president, presided at the session. Before the regular meeting the executive board convened at 1 o'clock.

Entertainment for the afternoon was provided by a one-act play entitled, "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet," presented by a group of Delone students. Sister Loyola, dramatic coach, directed the play which was enhanced by period costumes and music.

Tea was served by the women of New Oxford parish. Whaling ships from Europe are believed to have reached Newfoundland waters in the 14th Century.

WILEY WANTS SPEED UP ON AID TO CHIANG

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) demanded today a speed-up in "actual delivery of the military hardware" to the Chinese Nationalists and said it would make a greater impression on the Communists than speculation over changed Seventh Fleet orders.

He told reporters he planned to take the matter up directly with Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, at Bradley's appearance before a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Wiley is chairman of the committee.

To Meet Dulles

Earlier, the committee arranged to meet with Secretary of State Dulles in a session which shaped up in advance as a test of the Eisenhower administration's promise of a bipartisan foreign policy.

Dulles' appearance was arranged to give him opportunity to report on conditions in Europe as he found them on a 10-day inspection trip. But Democrats talked of broadening the questioning, if time permitted, to ask what moves are contemplated in the Far East beyond President Eisenhower's offer to the Seventh Fleet to permit possible Nationalist attacks on the Red China mainland.

In any event, Dulles will be called upon tomorrow to give this information, if he chooses, to a Far Eastern subcommittee.

Speculation On Blockade

There was renewed speculation whether the President is planning any move to establish a blockade of the Chinese coast. Dulles faced almost certain questioning on this point.

The amount of Democratic co-operation with the Republicans on foreign policy moves seemed likely to hinge to a large extent on how far Dulles was willing to take the senators into his confidence.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a committee member, said he thinks congressional committees should be informed of any change in the direction of foreign policy.

Roy McMillan of the Cincinnati Reds was the National League leader among shortstops in assists (495) and total chance (816) during 1952.

Spending, Taxation Slashes Are Urged

LONDON (AP) — The Association of British Chambers of Commerce, representing more than 70,000 business executives, has sent a letter to Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler telling him to slash government spending and taxation when he makes out his 1953 budget.

Complaining that taxation is too high, the letter said "about 35 per cent of the selling prices" of all British goods represents overhead caused by taxation. "In our view the keynote of the budget should be a drastic reduction of government expenditure," the letter added.

OIL TALKS WITH IRAN BOG DOWN; DULLES MAY ACT

WASHINGTON (AP) — American-British oil talks with Iran, which appeared near success three weeks ago, now have bogged down to the point where settlement prospects are uncertain.

Some officials believe Secretary of State Dulles, who has been concentrating on Western European and Far Eastern problems, may have to take a hand personally in present negotiations.

Britain and Iran appear unwilling to make further concessions until they are certain the Eisenhower administration fully supports the outlines of the settlement drafted under former Secretary Dean Acheson.

The Acheson Formula

The Acheson formula, it is understood, called for the United States to advance 100 million dollars to Iran to meet immediate pressing financial problems. This would have paid for future American oil purchases.

In return, Iran was to agree to submit its quarrel with Britain to the International Court for arbitration.

A combine of from four to six companies was to have been set up to move and market at least 20 million tons of Iranian oil annually.

Talks between American Ambassador Loy Henderson and Iranian Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadeq have still going on periodically. But negotiations are reported to have slowed down.

OREGON PRISON RIOT PUT DOWN; LET GUARDS GO

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — A short-lived rebellion was put down at the State Prison last night and five guards seized as hostages were released unharmed.

Warden Virgil J. O'Malley said no prison property was damaged. The five unarmed guards were seized as they entered the segregation cell block to serve evening meals. One of the rebellious convicts—all segregated for continued violation of prison rules—was armed with an improvised knife.

Some 50 guards, armed with rifles and tear gas guns, surrounded the cell block. Convicts in other sections of the 1,500-inmate prison, locked up for the night, remained calm throughout the disturbance.

Make Two Demands

The prisoners called O'Malley to the cell door and presented their demands:

1. Extension of their exercise period from the present 2½ hours to three hours.

2. Regular sentences for time required in the segregation cells.

O'Malley said the prisoners thought they were placed in segregation for indefinite periods for violation of prison rules. He explained the time had been specified but the convicts had not been notified. He told each of the prisoners how long they would have to remain in segregation—ranging from two to seven months—and took the other demand under consideration. After that the convicts released the guards and permitted themselves to be locked up.

OIL PRODUCTION UP

SASKATOON, Canada (AP) — Saskatchewan's oil production of 1,215,511 barrels for the first nine months of 1952 was more than the output for the whole of 1950, and almost up to last year's 12-month total.

BALLOON FLIES 600 MILES

Mt. Carmel, Ill. (AP) — Farmer Adam Berberich says a toy balloon flew 600 miles to his barn lot. He wrote to L. E. Kerbs, Otis, Kan., whose name was on a card with the balloon. He says Kerbs replied that he sent the balloon up in Otis only seven days before it was found. Kerbs is a farm implement dealer.

Cotton Patch Has Lone Parking Meter

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — This northeast Arkansas town has what is probably one of the most useless parking meters in the United States. It is located in the middle of a cotton patch. The cotton patch is located in the middle of town.

Nobody can explain how the meter got into the middle of J. A. (Squire) McDaniel's 280-square-foot plot of ground between the sidewalk and curb on the town's main drag.

But 84-year-old McDaniel can explain how the cotton got there. He says he just planted a sample package of cotton seed from Texas in his zinnia bed and up came four different varieties of cotton. All the zinnias are gone.

FOREIGN TRADE HITS HIGH

KARACHI, Pakistan, (AP) — Afghanistan's foreign trade in transit through the Pakistan port of Karachi has hit a record high of $42,220,000 for the first nine months of 1952, import statistics show. For all of 1951, landlocked Afghanistan's transit trade here was only $35,010,000.

OFFICER TELLS HOW CHILDREN CAN BE SAFER

The Associated Press
Many worried parents are recognizing the danger to their children from adults with twisted minds who select children as their victims. Many of them have asked "How can we warn our children in advance against the approaches of such people?"

A 31-page pamphlet just published by Murray and Gee of Culver City, California, may be one answer. "Playtime with Patty and Wilbur" is written by Captain Hugh C. McDonald, of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, a recognized authority on this subject. It is in language designed to be understood by tots when read to them by their parents.

Captain McDonald suggests that "the best results may be attained if the book is read to the youngsters during the evening, when the family is enjoying a little time together. For full effectiveness a story should be read each evening. After reading it, Mom or Dad can interpret it to best meet the problem with their own children. For effective results, these stories should be read over and over again."

"Remember Patty"
"Once the youngsters have become familiar with Patty and her friends, they should be reminded to 'Remember Patty' whenever they leave the direct supervision of their mother or father. This simple reminder will keep even small children aware of the danger of allowing anyone to become too friendly or to take them away," suggests the book.

There are four stories in this little book, each pointing up a lesson. The first, "Patty Plays in the Park," is about two little girls playing in a park who meet a "nice" stranger who invites them to go to the store for some ice cream and candy. Patty refuses, but the other little girl goes and is seen no more.

The second story, "Patty Visits Her Friend," shows Patty playing house in her daddy's garage. Suddenly, "Fuss Fetcher," the old man who lived several houses down the street from where Patty lived, "walked into the garage." Patty had known him for a long time, as did her parents, so when he invited her to his garage to play with some pretty china doll dishes, she did not hesitate to go. When Fuss began to act strangely Patty ran out of the garage and home to tell her parents. They make her promise never to go away with any one, even if they looked like a friend without first asking her mamma and daddy.

In similar vein, "Patty Goes to the Movies" with a friend only to find a stranger sitting down next to them, offering them some popcorn and pawing them at the same time. Patty and her friend tell the theater manager and the man is arrested.

In the final story, "Patty Forgets and Takes A Ride," she is

New Valentines Have Romantic Heritage Of More Than 500 Years; Were Handmade

Modern Valentines have a centuries-old history as fascinating and sentimental as Dan Cupid himself.

They are the romantic heritage of more than 500 years of experimentation by anxious sweethearts and imaginative publishing firms.

In style, purpose and price, however, Valentines have changed from generation to generation. Silhouetted against the background of time, these developments reveal how the Valentine custom has steadily increased in popularity.

The original Valentines, a fact almost forgotten today, were strictly tokens of friendship — for over 1,000 years! They were sent to commemorate the kindly spirit of St. Valentine, a young Roman priest executed February 14, 270 A.D., for refusing to renounce Christianity.

Had Amorous Scenes
Medieval sweethearts began exchanging romantic Valentines around 1,400. These early creations were designed with quill pen, pastepot and great expectations.

Cupid's more talented victims peppered their Valentines with amorous scenes neatly drawn in black and white. Later they were made by folding paper and cutting it into very intricate and lacy patterns, which were carefully hand-colored.

By the 17th century, the Valentine custom had spread throughout Europe. The style shifted to elaborate ornamentation. Rich noblemen bedecked their Valentines with expensive jewels, and hired ghost writers to pen impassioned rhymes.

In the lower income brackets, love-plagued swains spent weary hours decorating Valentines with turtle doves, pressed flowers, silk ribbons and cut-out hearts. England solved verse-writing problems for a sixpence by publishing the first "Valentine Writer" in 1640.

Similar pamphlets with tailor-made verses, and tips on how to build a better Valentine, were popular until the early 1800's. Meanwhile, new graphic arts processes had been developed, such as color engraving, lithography and aquatint.

As the 19th century began, English publishers were already selling elegantly printed Valentines. The competition among professional designers was keen, and clever innovations quickly followed.

One unusual Valentine pictured a gaily-colored floral bouquet that opened, like an accordion, into what resembled a "flower cage" or "spider web." Inside this screen a tiny cupid and verse appeared. "Mechanical Valentines" were introduced in the 1840's. They featured movable figures, easily animated by a cardboard tongue. Some would picture a tiny cottage or village church, with sides that on her way home from school-books when a nice looking creature drives up in a fine car and offers her a ride. Patty forgot everything her parents have told her and accepts. But, instead of driving her home the creature driving the car swiftly drove off in another direction. He wouldn't let her go despite all her pleading and crying. Patty had made her one mistake, but she remembered something else her mother had told her and when she saw a policeman, she cried out for help and was saved.

Your youngsters will want to hear these stories again and again, identifying themselves with Patty and her friends. Families with small children should welcome them for their realistic lessons on how to avoid or cope with deviate personalities.

NEW YORK (P)—A judge has ordered the press and public barred from hearing prosecution evidence in the cafe society vice trial of playboy Minot F. Jelke III.

General Sessions Judge Francis L. Valente said he took the action in the interest of "public decency." Any other decision, he said, "could serve no constructive purpose and may be a positive disservice to youth."

WASHINGTON (P)—Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler of Lancaster, Pa., was undergoing a checkup at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital Monday.

A hospital spokesman said the former commander of the 28th Pennsylvania Division was undergoing a series of tests and examinations.

This year's Valentines are chuckle-full of romantic notions about what to do when you're in love. Whimsical but right to the point is the coy moppet in pigtails who asks, "Will You Be My Valentine?" Wisely, she adds, "If you need some time to think, send me back this box of pink." Two teen-agers display more obvious affection by sharing a St. Valentine's Day kiss, with Dan Cupid looking on. A survey with the fringe on top is recommended for sentimental journeys. So choose your partners, everybody, and mail your Valentines in plenty of time for Saturday, February 14!

opened to reveal a happy domestic scene or wedding ceremony.

Exported To America
This was the so-called "Golden Age of Valentines." In frills and fuss, the Valentines of this period, 1830-60, reached a peak of perfection and beauty that has only been equalled in recent years.

Victorian England exported great quantities of Valentines to America; for here, too, they had been handmade since Revolutionary War days. Envelopes were added for the first time, and when a low-cost postal service began Valentines became more popular than ever.

American publishers began selling their own Valentines in 1840. By 1857 over three million Valentines were sold in the United States, retailing from three cents to thirty dollars apiece.

As the century wore on, humorous Valentines became fashionable. They still are. The 1953 Valentines are evenly divided between the whimsical type and those created in the lace- and - ribbon tradition.

Modern lads and lasses, however, value the verses most of all. For those in love are still seeking some special way to say — "Let's be Sweethearts!"

Two Are Killed In Saturday Crash

SAYRE, Pa. (P)—Oscar Lane, 25, of Sayre, remained in critical condition in Robert Packer Memorial Hospital Monday following an auto accident near here that claimed the lives of two men and injured another.

Killed in Saturday night's accident were Paul Rowe, 27, and Robert Hansell, 27, both of Sayre. Manley Heeman, 27, also of Sayre, was hurt.

Rio Grande River Is Getting Smaller

LAREDO, Tex. (P)—The Rio Grande will never again be the big river it once was. That's the view of the federal men here who record the incessant rise and fall — mostly fall in recent years — of the boundary stream.

Dams and reservoirs, they explain, have been built along the stream to such an extent that even a year of good rain upstream might not restore the historic level.

Karl F. Keeler, U. S. hydraulic engineer, says that in 1900 only 10,000 acres on the U. S. side of the river were irrigated below Fr. Quitman at the lower end of the El Paso Valley. Mexico was then irrigating 275,000 acres. By 1950, more than 800,000 acres were being irrigated on the U. S. side and Mexico was irrigating almost as much acreage.

Priest Teaches His Flock To Make Dolls

VERONA, Italy, (P)—A young priest of a mountain village near here taught his parishioners how to make dolls, to keep them from emigrating abroad.

The Rev. Luigi Bodini of Lugo di Valpantena organized a small factory where he teaches the young ones to make dolls and gives them a specialized handicraft education. With an initial fund of $6,400, which he obtained from families of the valley, he bought the raw materials required for this artisan shop.

After one year of work, the little factory produces 500 dolls a month.

They are made in unbreakable porcelain, they say "mama" and "Papa" and close their eyes. Young girls cut and tailor the dresses. Young men make the special clay in a homemade oven for the dolls' bodies, heads, arms, and legs.

'BULLETS' SCARE MOTORIST
LAUREL, Mont. (P)—A car with an explosive cough scared a farmer into thinking he had been shot at. The farmer told police the hood of his car was punctured with bullets as he drove to town. A deputy sheriff calmed the man by explaining that the fan blade had taken off like a propeller and ripped holes in the hood.

Constitutional Convention Membership May Be Boosted

HARRISBURG (P)—A bipartisan move was underway today to increase the membership of a proposed constitutional convention from 45 to 120.

Democrats joined Republicans in endorsing a series of amendments to be made to an administration-backed bill to set up machinery for revision of Pennsylvania's 79-year-old Constitution.

The measure, released for floor action by the House State Government Committee yesterday, is in position for a final House vote next Monday.

The constitutional convention would meet in Harrisburg next January to draft recommendations for a new basic law. The draft then would be placed on the ballot for voter approval in November, 1954.

Under the original proposal, the constitutional convention would have been elected next November on the basis of one from each of the state's 30 congressional districts.

Suggest Three Plans

To bring the total to 45, 15 other delegates would have been elected on a statewide basis from slates of 10 nominated by each party.

The new amendment calls for three methods of picking a 120-member convention:

(1) Gov. John S. Fine would appoint 20 delegates. Ten would be Republicans and 10 Democrats.
(2) Each party would nominate two delegates in each congressional district with the three highest at the primary election being elected. This would result in the naming of 90 delegates.

(3) Ten delegates would be named from the Legislature. Speaker Charles C. Smith (R-Philadelphia) would appoint three Republicans and two Democrats from among House members. Sen. M. Harvey Taylor (R-Dauphin), Senate president pro tempore, would choose the same party ratio in the Senate.

General Representation

Rep. Albert W. Johnson (McKean), House Republican floor leader, said of the amendments: "This is the result of the feeling of the majority, minority and the Pennsylvania Bar Association that the convention should be more representative of the people."

Meanwhile, the House and Senate Appropriations Committees joined in an effort to air publicly a request by Gov. John S. Fine for a $111,414,500 appropriation for relief.

Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, public assistance secretary, was summoned to testify at the open hearing, second of its kind in a week.

The Public Assistance Department is asking $110 millions for relief grants and the remainder for administration. The appropriation for the current biennium is 132 millions of which 20 millions is expected to remain unspent.

Prison Probe Fails

In the Senate, Democrats lost out in an effort last night to seek an immediate legislative probe of recent prison riots at Western State Penitentiary, Pittsburgh, and Rockview State Prison, Bellefonte.

Sen. John H. Dent (Westmoreland), Democratic floor leader, introduced a resolution to set up a 10-man legislative committee to conduct the prison investigation. The committee's efforts would have been apart from a current prison study being made by a five-man group named by the governor.

The upper branch last night confirmed the appointments of three Public Utility Commission members, including Chairman Leon Schwartz, Nanticoke; Thomas C. Egan and P. Stephen Stahlnecker, both of Philadelphia. Frank D. Armstrong, Harrisburg, also was confirmed for another term on the State Liquor Control Board.

As the House went ahead with its constitutional convention bill, Senate Democrats introduced similar legislation to change the state's basic law.

The Senate measure would set up a 75-member constitutional convention. Twenty-five members would come from the Senate, 25 from the House and 25 by gubernatorial appointment. Republicans would hold a 45 to 30 edge in convention voting.

Both Republicans and Democrats have endorsed the constitutional convention idea in their party platforms.

Under the House bill, backed by the governor, the Declaration of Rights sections would remain untouched. It has been intact in the Constitution since 1776.

WOULD ABOLISH PA. DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

HARRISBURG (P)—Another Chesterman Committee report proposing abolition of the State Department of Commerce brought to 78 million dollars a biennium today the figure the committee said could be saved by a re-grouping of state agencies.

The committee, headed by Francis J. Chesterman, Philadelphia, was set up by Gov. John S. Fine to make a study of all government departments and recommend economies.

In a week-end report the committee said $1,180,000 a biennium could be saved by dropping the State Commerce Department. The committee raised a question as to the usefulness of the department's three principal promotional programs: tourist and recreation, industrial development and Pennsylvania Week, and said:

19 Reports So Far
"It is our conviction that no department of state government should continue to exist and be supported by public money for the primary purpose of promotion unless it can be definitely established by documentary evidence that it is effective in improving the economic condition of the commonwealth."

The State Planning Board and the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission, which are a part of the Commerce Department, the committee said, should become a part of a proposed works administration.

In 19 reports already made public, the committee has recommended also abolition of the Internal Affairs Department and merging the Mines Department with Labor and Industry; the Milk Control Commission with Agriculture, Health and Welfare with Public Assistance and the Fish and Game Commissions with the Forests and Waters Departments.

Reports still are to be completed on the state's accounting system, and the Departments of Banking, Justice, Labor and Industry and the State Department.

Gen. Van Fleet

breaking Communists in October-November (Allied) offensive.

5. Q—What was the most important or perhaps most typical decision you ever made in Korea?

A—Two decisions: (A) the April-May offensive; (B) took chance after that offensive to cut off replacements to ROK Army to set up ROK Army training program.

ROK Prospects
6. Q—What do you consider to be the ultimate realistic strength of the ROK Army?

A—The answer of 20 divisions or one million men has been given in the past.

7. Q—What convinced you that the ROK Army could be made into a real fighting force?

A—The lack of training as I found it in the ROK Army indicated that any army with little training could not be a real fighting force. The qualities of anti-Communist patriotism and loyalty and their early response to a sound training program—proved in battle—convinced me they could be made into a real fighting force.

No Comment
8. Q—On leaving Korea, what is your greatest regret?

A—Leaving Korea, the officers and men of the Eighth Army, and the ROK Army and people.

9. Q—Under ideal conditions, what would be your own solution to the military problem in Korea?

A—No comment.

Van Fleet declined to elaborate on how an offensive might be mounted in Korea. To do that would compromise possible future Allied operations. But his answer to his earlier questions—and his whole record in the Korean War—suggests the kind of battle he would have fought if he had his way.

"The Only Good Communist"
It would probably have been a massive, violent, grinding line drive by the whole force of the Eighth Army from coast to coast with ruthless armored thrusts up the natural invasion corridors into North Korea, or wherever the Reds weakened and collapsed.

Van Fleet was offensively minded. Over and over he told his friends, his soldiers, and the war correspondents who followed him: "You've got to clobber those people" as he always called the Reds.

Use Machines Now For Planting Trees

RALEIGH, N. C. (P) —

Tree-planting machines on open and fairly level ground can plant from 7,000 to 20,000 seedlings with a two-man crew in an eight-hour day, says John E. Ford, assistant forester for the North Carolina State College extension service.

Ford noted the increase in the use of the machines in the last several years by landowners, sawmill operators and other organizations. He added, however, that hand-planting was the only method possible in many places and that it was doubtful that the planting machines would be efficient in areas smaller than 10 acres.

REDS FEAR AIR RAIDS

HONG KONG (P) —

The Chinese Communists, apparently becoming a little jittery over rumors of Nationalist air raids, have set up an anti-aircraft defense command at Nanning, South China, according to dispatches to the independent newspaper Wah Kiu Pat Po. The newspaper said similar commands have been established at Wuchow, Kweilin and Luichow in Kwangsi province.
